After careful consideration of the problem how best to relieve a certain Evening World" in various ways-by personal investigation-it has been debe called "The Evening World" Temporary Relief Fund.

This fund is not intended to be large. and to it no large contributions are expected or sought, but rather a fund sufficiently large for the purposes of relieving, temporarily, such families as have been deprived of their usual or natural support by reason of the un-usual severity of the weather, or present illness of the family breadwinner. There is a host of just such cases in this city, and it is because of the receipt of communications regarding several deserving cases that this Temporar Relief Fund is started, for "The Evening World" is opposed to indiscriminate

What the man asks for is work. Pending the obtaining of employment and payment for his labor, there are those mouths to feed, the clamor of the hungry children to be stilled

This is substantially the report of the investigator sent by "The Evening World" to report on the case.

Another case, to which the attention of "The Evening World" has been called, is that of another West Thirty-ninth street man. He is an old man, and was found literally starving in a miserable back room, up two flights of rickety stairs, in a wretched old rookery.

Thirty Days Without Food.

The man, John Ryan, is sixty years old. He is a stove-worker, a widower, having lost his helpmate last year. He had not been seen by the other tenants of the rookery since New Year's Day. Last Thursday grouns were heard com- age. ing from the old man's room, and on investigation, they found that Ryan had been lying iii and alone for a whole A . Plan to Help Deserving month.
